

Bible Study on the Epitome A book within the BOOK OF CONCORD

Used by permission from a study originally authored by Rev. Klemet Preus, in 2007.

Introduction, Outline, Lessons 1, 2, 6, and Article I, V, and IX, by Gene White and Article IX by Rev. Doug Knoll, emeritus.

A challenging study on the reader's digest version of the Solid Declaration, a doctrinal work that was the defining element needed to draw confessional Lutherans together again after Luther's death and the compromises engineered by Philipp Melancthon. Chemnitz is often called the "second Martin" and is credited with saving the Reformation that Martin Luther started. "There were many in the class who did not have an understanding of many of the things covered. Lots of class discussion. Many were excited to have Scripture open up to them in this way; excellent class!"

The Eptiome document and the Instructor Manual are now free and are being reworked. They will be available soon so inquire at churchmatters@frontier.com for current status.
